Eprrons Appeal -I have seen and traveled a great deal since I left Memphis. Paris is not what it used to be, and this is rather a good sign for the French people, to whom the late war, I think, will prove to be a great benefit, morally. I left Paris as soon as possible, via Strausburg and Munich, for Vienna, where I enjoyed myself very much, particularly the music, wherein Vienna suris the finest in the world, as is also the thirty artists, anequaled. I was, of course, there every night, and heard The Schools, the People, the Lawrers Fidelio, Don Juan, Hollander, and a Preischutz. Did you ever hear Fidelio! You will say, of course, "Yes," but had you heard it performed as I did, you will say "No; I hever heard Fidelio and had not the least tiles of the months."

AFFECTION'S OFFERING. TO ANNA WARROLD RECKNISE. "Outside and in, the pearly gate," Outside, was seen the little grave Of a babe, who had just here dying, Inside, her siny angel fect O'er helds of light were flying.

Outside, I heard a father's moon A mother's cry out-breaking; Inside, the amost host rejuleed O'er the babe's sweet, bright awak ning Out die, a lonely breaker walled O'er little steps retreating; inside, soft notes of rapture swelled, The new-born charub greating. Outside the gate, was heavy wos, And home made melancholy: Inside, the innescape radiant shone In soft light, calm and hely.

Fideho! You will say, of course, "Yes," but had you heard it performed as I did, you will say "No; I hever heard Fideho and had not the least lides of the music." I used to like Tannhauser, Fideho, etc., but now I must say there is nothing like Fideho, and Wagner is, compared to Eesthoven, as I am to Wagner. Talk about music for the future; but Fideho, and Wagner is forgotten. I had, also, the good fortune of hearing a concert given by Wagner, who had quite an ovation at Vienna. He gave only one concert, which cleared for Vienna the unprecedented net profit of fifteen thousand florins. From Vienna the unprecedented net profit of fifteen thousand florins.
